

NUMEROLOGY

Calculate Your Life with Numbers

Numerology Lifepath # shows your characteristics and explains the lesson to be learned in this lifetime and the challenges you will have meeting these lessons.

You got your Numerology Lifepath # on the Day you were Born

How to find your Lifepath#? Add up all of the digits from your date of birth until you get to one digit (this will be your life path #)

Example: March 9, 1977 (03/09/1977) = $3+9+1+9+7+7=36$, then $3+6=9$ (lifepath# is #9)

Exception to the Rule...If you get the # 11 or the # 22, this is your Life Path #, Do not bring those two #s down to one digit. In Numerology there's Lifepath #'s (the single digits) 1 through 9 and (the master numbers) 11 and 22.

LIFE PATH # 1

Your Character Traits

- Much potential for financial gain and accomplishments.
- Strong personal desires and needs
- Self centered, but capable of hiding it from others though aware of it.
- The number one will spend time and money to satisfy material needs.
- Possesses great inner strength can overcome any weakness in self.
- Has administrative and executive abilities and skills.
- Very good leadership capabilities.

The Lesson - The lifepath one must learn to give up dependencies whether it is people or substances. As soon as the one can accept his or her own inner strength and leadership abilities the sooner many things will begin to be accomplished and goals attained.

Being independent will allow the one to make good use of inborn talents and leadership abilities which others will also sense and respond to by opening doors to opportunities. This will allow the lifepath 1 to reach the goals he/she sets.

Challenges Learning this Lesson - Some 1s who lack a sense of balance can have trouble changing from dependent to independent and must work on achieving that balance in order for the soul to progress.

Lifepath one can also be egotistical and overbearing to a point of discounting all ideas unless they are his own. This is a very big fault and the one should monitor and control this in order to progress successfully through this incarnation.

LIFE PATH # 2

Your Character Traits

- Can be a good friend
- Naturally expresses love and friendship
- Sensitive to the feelings of others
- Shows much consideration to others.
- Denies self's material needs for others

The Lesson - A lifepath 2 must learn to cultivate his/her talents to contribute to a group relationship even though he/she may not receive adequate acknowledgement and thanks.

While having many good ideas the 2 should learn to pass them on and let others spread them, thus stepping out of the spotlight. The lifepath 2 should learn that the use of quiet persuasion is more effective than the use of trying to force ideas on others or the group in general.

The need here is to develop his/her sensitivities and group skills while learning to work effectively with others.

Challenges Learning this Lesson - Refusing to accept the part of subordinate and insisting on a leadership role will only result in confusion and ineffective guidance to the group as a whole. thereby a denial of soul growth through experience.

Control and balance of the lifepath 2s sensitivity is the key to soul growth and development

LIFE PATH # 3

Your Character Traits

- Delightful conversationalist
- Social, can put others at ease
- Good speaker or writer, has talent with words
- Vivid imagination

The Lesson - The lesson for the lifepath 3 is an easy one since it involves the joy experienced in expressing oneself with warmth and honesty toward others. The 3 should cultivate and use the artistic talents and imagination in the fields of painting, writing, acting, etc. The highest level of attainment in this lesson is to be able to creatively express self in a way that will allow him/her to enjoy and appreciate the beauty that can be found in this world. People will be delighted when the 3 is expressing the joy of living up to his/her potential.

Challenges Learning this Lesson - The 3 will have to learn to deal with problems with ease which he/she is capable of doing by tapping into the joy inherent within. Maturing later than most, the moody critical side of the lifepath 3 may be difficult to overcome. The 3 is on a lighter learning path than others. If a 3 has a hard time tapping into his/her own capabilities and talents he/she may retreat into their own little world, avoiding social contacts and begin responding to people in a critical and demeaning manner.

LIFE PATH # 4

Your Character Traits

- Capable of creating system and order.
- Serious, honest and sincere.
- Responsible
- Strong sense of likes and dislikes
- Practical
- Hard Worker

The Lesson - The lesson for the lifepath 4 is quite simple. He/She must learn the advantage gained for self through system and order toward the accomplishing of his/her goals.

Learning to accept limitations, he/she must also learn there are many rewards by rendering service to others in spite of the hardship (limitations) it may cause in any area of the life of a lifepath 4.

Being aware of the many limitations in life, inner self, the environment and of his or her own endurance and physical strength, often feeling they limit self more than anyone else and learning to live in peace and harmony with the limitations will eventually allow the lifepath four to accomplish his/her lifepath lesson. That is the path to gaining the victory for soul growth.

Challenges Learning this Lesson - The lifepath 4 must guard against letting feelings of inadequacies and limitations get the upper hand. A stubborn and rigid manner may be causing the 4 some personal problems but he/she will not acknowledge this fact to self or others.

Only when the 4 focuses on the positive inherent in limitations will he/she follow the path to completion of a lesson well learned.

LIFE PATH # 5

Your Character Traits

- Active
- Clever, but not always put to best use.
- Impatient and Restless, quickly becomes jaded with an activity
- Loves Change
- Enthusiastic, as long as interest is high
- Inspiring and good companion.
- versatile, he/she can do almost anything

The Lesson - Learning the inner joy and peace of using freedom constructively is the lesson for a lifepath 5. There are opportunities in abundance for this person that are filled with variety, adventure, out of the ordinary people and events. This person must learn to make the most of his/her opportunities to progress constructively in this lifetime.

The lifepath 5 has the capabilities to accomplish many things. He/she is a multi-talented individual and the world is his/hers for the taking providing he keeps a good and positive attitude. By treating others as the 5 would like to be treated will open even more opportunities in his/her life.

Challenges Learning this Lesson - Almost childlike, he/she may flit from one thing to another effectively frittering away this life span. He/she must closely guard against falling into the pit of sins of the flesh, over-indulgent in food, alcohol and most especially drugs if he/she is to complete this lesson and raise the soul growth to a higher plane.

If the 5 does fall into over-indulgence without an understanding of its negative effects it can lead to using others for his/her own financial and material gain.

The negative 5 could become dependent on friends and relatives instead of self to the extent that his soul will be injured and may have to come back to earth to complete the lesson, perhaps over many lifetimes until control over self is realized. People are quickly frustrated with the negative lifepath 5 which lowers his chance of staying on the right path.

LIFE PATH # 6

Your Character Traits

- Willing to assume burdens and responsibilities.
- Family is your main focus.
- Generous with personal material goods.
- Excellent teacher, good with children.
- Capable of bringing balance to situations.
- Emotional
- Artistic

The Lesson - Learning the pleasure of accepting and managing responsibility is the major lesson of the lifepath 6.

Other people including strangers, family and friends, turn to the six for help and answers to their problems which the 6 can handle quite well. At times the 6 will feel he/she has more than his/her fair share of responsibilities but learning this lesson of giving of the resources of self means the 6 must accept and deal with it in a cheerful manner, being careful that no one takes undue advantage of his good nature.

Challenges Learning this Lesson - When the lifepath 6 becomes tired of the burdens placed on him/her then the 6 will have to decide just how many responsibilities he/she is willing to accept. Recognizing those who come to him/her out of genuine need and helplessness versus those who use the 6 from force of habit or for personal gain is when the weeding out process begins. Just be careful you do not throw the baby out with the bath water.

A major part of this lesson is judging who he/she will be responsible for and when this responsibility is to be expressed in action.

LIFE PATH # 7

Your Character Traits

- Hard to get to know-but mostly unaware of this
- Reserved and self-centered
- Depends mainly on self
- Does not adapt well to the ways of others
- On a different wavelength than those around him/her
- Does things his/her own way

The Lesson - The lifepath 7 must learn to know self in order to have peace of mind. Gifted with good intuition the 7 must guard against judging people and events by appearances.

He/she should analyze the world around him/her, trusting the 7 intuition and developing until reaching optimal soul growth.

The lifepath 7 must not allow material things to become the center of attention, but must be aware of the force such things play in his/her life. Finding inner peace and faith is the primary focus of this lesson of moderation in all things.

Challenges Learning this Lesson - The earmarks of a negative lifepath 7 are being self-centered and very reclusive, avoiding social encounters. Doing this he/she will not develop and grow until these traits are overcome in self.

if the Negative 7 remains negative and tries to deny his/her character he/she will be dogged by problems and failures until again returning to the path laid out by him/her before birth.

LIFE PATH # 8

Your Character Traits

- Practical
- Stubborn
- Good judge of character of others
- Self-confident
- Executive abilities
- Very Dependable
- Ambitious

The Lesson - The lesson to be learned is how to get and keep power and material gains while getting along with others in peace and dignity. This person will not be a dreamer and lost in a cloud of foggy thinking or be a visionary but instead has to learn to get along in the practical, material world to gain the satisfaction this lesson will bring when thoroughly learned.

To create a satisfying role in this life the number 8 must take an effective approach by utilizing all his/her skills and organizational capabilities. He/she will be concerned with only the best things in life in order to gain the satisfaction he/she seeks.

Challenges Learning this Lesson - Achieving the power the Numerology lifepath eight represents will come from growth and development along the path of self improvement guarding against the negative feelings of limitations and dissatisfaction.

Feeling limited will mean he/she needs to achieve a higher level of self-confidence and could devote several years just raising that level in self.

On the negative numerology number 8's journey through life a misuse of power over others will result in resentment and hostility, possibly from those he/she needs the most.

LIFE PATH # 9

Your Character Traits

- Idealism tempered with practicality
- Romantic, easily hurt by love interest
- Sensitive and compassionate
- Creative and imaginative
- Tolerant of others

The Lesson - This lesson is to learn to give unselfishly of one's self to others thus bringing satisfaction to the numerology lifepath 9.

A very simple lesson? Yes, but, very difficult to actually learn and practice without considering a reward for his/herself. The 9's inner love for others must be accomplished from a purely humanitarian viewpoint. Having a lot of creativity will help the 9 reach his/her goal.

Challenges Learning this Lesson - If the numerology number 9 on the negative side has trouble being giving and less ambitious it can be a very bad thing for him/her. If he/she becomes overly ambitious, seeking after much material gain then he/she will surely get it but at the cost of a lot of inner dissatisfaction with self, perhaps even reaching the end of life a bitter and lonely individual as the result.

The numerology lifepath 9 should guard against scattering his/her efforts in too many directions at one time.

LIFE PATH #11

Numerology life path 11 is a master number. The numerology number 11 is special and unique. the one possessing this lifepath number is fully capable of accomplishing great things.

Your Character Traits

- You can be impractical and a dreamer

- Idealist and visionary
- Tension of the nerves
- Often an inspiration to others
- Capable of rising to the top of any career he/she chooses

The Lesson - The lifepath eleven must learn to be aware what relationship his spiritual world may have with the material world. While this master number has added to him or her a higher perception and awareness along with more enhanced capabilities of understanding it will still take much effort on the eleven's part to develop these gifts before fully capable of applying them to his life path.

Once developed this individual is capable of far more attainment than most others will ever be. Thus attaining higher material goals along with insights to the more esoteric pursuits in life.

Challenges Learning this Lesson - The lifepath 11 must not use his/her special powers and insights for selfish or self serving ends. The negative 11 will accomplish little while lost in dreams of a perfect world, rationalizing his predicament while trying to find satisfaction in his/her life.

While the Lifepath 11 is capable of doing great things he/she must train themselves for the awareness they need in order to learn the lessons of this life and progress closer to the spiritual (not necessarily religious) world.

LIFE PATH #22

Numerology lifepath 22 is a master builder. The number 22 is very powerful. Anyone possessing this lifepath number has a date with destiny.

Your Character Traits

- Extremely capable of reaching the very top of his/her chosen profession
- An inborn understanding of material problems and their forces
- Very perceptive in most things
- The inner fire of a 22 is visible to all he/she comes into contact with
- The nervous tension felt by a 22 cannot often be hidden

The Lesson - The lifepath 22 must learn to live up to his/her potential being although aware and highly perceptive as he/she is will find self often frustrated at not being able to put the puzzle together when confronted with a problem. Learning to harness the great power to accomplish great things will not come to the 22 in his/her early years.

After maturity will come better understanding and he/she will be a wonder to see in all his/her endeavors. Learning how to harness this great potential and use it constructively for the betterment of those around him/her or the world in general will be the lesson for this lifetime.

Challenges Learning this Lesson - The lifepath 22 must not use his power for selfish reasons as he will circumvent the destiny of the master number 22 and will be very aware of misusing it which will lead to unrest and a troubled soul.

Occasionally a negative 22 will be overwhelmed by this powerful force and try to retreat from it which he/she must not do as the world needs him/her and it will result in another wasted life span.

LIFE DESTINY NUMBER

Your Destiny Number sheds light on those things you must accomplish in your life to be fulfilled.

To find your life destiny number you have to add together the values for all the letters in your full birth name.

DESTINY #1

Your task in this life is to develop your true, authentic self and to become in leader in whatever you do. You're all about power. You want to be the best in everything you do as well. You have very high standards of performance for yourself and, in turn, you expect the same from others, which can set you up for frustration and disappointment.

Your purpose is to take the lead and take initiative. The Destiny 1 number is meant to have courage, act independently on your unique and original ideas, be innovative, and take charge. All this while communicating and acting with clarity and compassion.

DESTINY #2

Your task in life is to create harmony, balance, cooperation, and love wherever you go and in whatever you do. Love is the cornerstone to your life and finding that perfect mate is important to you. You're here to learn how to develop your sense of relationship; how to successfully understand and relate to others and to yourself.

Your path includes developing diplomacy. The Destiny 2 encourages you to seek to be of service to the "larger cause;" whether that's your family, your company, or any other cause or group you feel strongly about. Your destiny is to develop adaptability, open-hearted caring, and focus on the higher good. Understand that you need to get out and socialize, because when you isolate yourself, you suffer from pessimism, depression, and inaction.

DESTINY #3

Your task in life is to inspire, heal, uplift, and energize others. Your ultimate purpose comes through when you're operating with a core sense of optimism, enthusiasm, compassion, and joy.

Some of the qualities you bring to the table are beauty, possible eccentricity, excitement, and fame. When you've tapped into your authentic sense of expression and then inspire others to use and express theirs, you're fulfilling your life's purpose. If you give up on your dreams and don't use your talents creatively, you'll battle with depression and find yourself traveling down other unsatisfying or destructive pathways. You must pursue your true calling, so make efforts to focus on what that is for you, believe in it and don't be deterred from embracing it.

DESTINY #4

Your task is to build something of lasting value; whether that's a family of your own, a business, or other enterprise. You're all about stability and security. Honesty is a big issue for you.

Your life purpose revolves around being practical and hardworking. You're the keeper of order and thrive on stability and security. You might lean toward rigidity or stubbornness.

DESTINY #5

Your task is adaptability, progress, freedom, and embracing the adventure of life. Freedom is the guiding force in your life. You thrive on hands-on experience. Your task is to develop your constructive use of freedom.

Your purpose is to embrace your sense of fearlessness and follow your curiosity to explore the world and offer your magnetic presence and gifts to those around you. The Destiny 5 number is intelligent, philosophical, and spiritually minded.

DESTINY #6

Your task is to nurture and serve, plain and simple. Whether it's your family and loved ones or your business or community, you are a master at creating beauty, harmony, and balance. Love with acceptance is key for you.

You have a polished presentation about you and denote an air of authority in whatever you do. Give yourself permission to accept things when life is good. There will always be another problem to solve down the line. No need to push issue all the time.

DESTINY #7

Your task is to seek out information and analyze it. You're all about knowledge and spiritual seeking. You dig deep and contemplate heavily. You're the perfect researcher and everything always comes back to informing your own sense of inner wisdom. Your life-long task is to get to know the true you, inside and out.

You need a good deal of private "alone" time. Your life is instructed by a powerful collision between practical, tangible data and the analysis of it. Then on the other hand, you're highly intuitive and your task is to integrate the two (your intellect and your intuition) into a harmonious balance.

DESTINY #8

Your task is to gain self-mastery in a profound way. Your purpose is to achieve and succeed with business and organization; not to mention personal power, control, authority, and above all, ethics. The Eight is a relentless taskmaster and demands that you understand and employ all your abilities to achieve financial abundance and also to give to others generously. When you realize that you're here to achieve power and abundance and then act on that knowledge, your destiny will be fulfilled. Right out of the gate, you have authority issues.

DESTINY #9

Your task is a humanitarian one. Yours is a spiritual path and you're here to love unconditionally, however that may manifest in your life. You're often a hopeless romantic at heart and can set yourself up for disappointment when people don't measure up to your ideals. You're at your optimal when you're tapping into your creativity, sensitivity, and selflessness.

Beware that others may find that you're ideas are a little abstract. The Destiny 9 number is a powerful one demanding that you learn to transform and heal (both yourself and others) while letting go of the past freely and without bitterness.

DESTINY #11

Your task is to recognize and use your creativity, intuition, and healing abilities for the benefit of humanity as a whole. You can achieve this in a multitude of ways—eliciting an emotional response through dance, music, or art. Working one-on-one or in groups with various healing modalities. Or you can write, entertain, teach.

Remember, you are a double 1 (leadership, confidence) and yet also a 2 (harmony, love). So you come with some special challenges to fulfill your mission. A 2 Life Path will go out of their way to avoid being in the spotlight. A 2 is most at peace and satisfied when they're taking the reins behind the scenes. The 11 pushes you into the spotlight and this will have some disconcerting effects on you. You'll feel as though nothing you do is ever quite enough. You'll have a nervous energy that you just can't control. You'll lean toward impatience and criticism (toward yourself and others) and arm-wrestle with self-doubt.

DESTINY #22

Your task is to execute and build projects that will benefit a wide arena of humankind. This is a spiritual path that prods you to step out of the slow, steady security of the number 4 and kick it up substantially. This will be uncomfortable for you until you get the hang of it, because it's contrary to the pull you have with the rule-following energy of the 4.

You'll use all the hardworking, step-by-step qualities of the Four while tapping into a higher level of purpose and action. You'll learn to take risks and look toward setting higher stakes with your enterprises. You're the Master Builder extraordinaire, so look toward building solid foundations to your enterprise with the big picture in front of you at all times.
