PAB Movie Screening

Actor Seann William Scott introduced his new film Role Models at Harkins Theatre in Tempe, on Wednesday, Oct. 15, 2008.

Arizona State University students gathered to watch a special sneak preview presented by ASU's own Programming and Activities Board.

Students filled the theatre to its capacity of 270 seats. Students who arrived just before show time, found themselves having to find any seat they could possibly get— even if it meant sitting without their friends.

Justin D'Amico, PAB Movie Screenings Director, was excited to have such a huge turnout. "I am so excited so many students came out to see the advance screening" D'Amico said. "Stifler is one of my favorite characters; I love all the American Pie movies, it's an honor that Seann William Scott would come out here and make an appearance."

ASU student Armin Hojjatie said "I'm stoked; this is by far one of the coolest events PAB has ever thrown."

Student voices could be heard all throughout the theatre speaking with anticipation and excitement in their voices. After about 30 minutes, renowned comedian Seann William Scott walked in and the sounds of applause and cheer could be heard all throughout.

Scott immediately stood up in front of the crowd and began thanking everyone for coming out to see his new film. "Thanks for coming out tonight, I know you guys are busy and I really appreciate you taking the time to come here tonight," Scott said, "The cast and I had a great time making this movie... you got Paul Rudd and Jane Lynch from 40-year-old Virgin and McLovin! I hope you enjoy it... maybe we'll win an Oscar who knows, but yeah, enjoy the film, I am going to sit and watch the first 20 minutes with you guys... Thanks for coming out."

During the film, there were many laugh-out-loud moments, packed with crude humor and catchy one-liners.

After the film was over, students applauded and began filing out of the theatre one by one, various students began quoting unforgettable lines and reenacting hysterical scenes.

Charlie Phillips, a senior at Arizona State, said "It was great, I laughed so hard, definitely a movie I would see again... Thanks PAB!"
